

MME 2018

29th Micromechanics and
Microsystems Europe Workshop

26-29 August 2018, Smolenice,
Slovakia

Background

The Micromechanics and Microsystems Europe Workshop is a well-established European event in the fields of micromachining, microengineering and microtechnology for the realization of micro-sensors and actuators. The goals of the MME workshop include stimulation and improvement of technical knowledge, as well as the establishment of cooperation and friendship between delegates.

Scope

MME 2018 will include research concepts and results in the areas of microsystems materials, processing technology and devices. These include, but are not limited to:

- Fabrication technologies and processes
- Design and simulation tools
- Microcomponent packaging and solutions
- Device and process characterization
- Sensing and actuation applications
- Microfluidic components and systems
- System integration of MEMS, NEMS, RF MEMS, MOEMS and Bio MEMS

Important deadlines

Paper submission deadline: 31 May 2018

Notification to authors: 1 July 2018

Early bird registration: 23 July 2018

Contact

Web: www.mme2018.org

Email: mme2018@fei.stuba.sk

Smolenice Castle and Bratislava

The MME 2018 will be held in the Smolenice Castle located near the Bratislava, Slovakia. It is situated at the foothill of the Little Carpathians (Male Karpaty) Mountains, 60 km to the northwest of Bratislava. The castle was built in 15th century. It became a representative place for meetings of the scientists from the worldwide.

A trip to the Bratislava will be organized within the conference. Bratislava is a small historical city and a capital city of Slovakia, which has a very pleasant medieval inner city with narrow, winding streets, a hill-top castle next to the river Danube, and many historic churches and buildings to visit.

Get in: The conference bus will be provided to transport attendees from Bratislava to Smolenice Castle. Bratislava Airport is very convenient to use and provides the simplest way to travel to Slovakia. In addition, Vienna International Airport is located only 60 km from Bratislava.